Mini Workshop: All About Sleeves

Pattern Drafting for sleeves is an art form all its own. There are many different types of sleeves used today in fashion, theatrical costume, historical reenactments, and cosplay. Participants in this on-line workshop will learn the principals of pattern preparation for full sized drafting. The techniques taught in this workshop are intended for the advanced sewer. Several flat-patterned sleeves will be developed, working hands-on in a quarter scale format. Sleeve blocks will be sent via email once registered for the workshop.
